SLAPSTICK & SLAUGHTER

AF DESPERATE MEN (UK)

Monty Python møder de gamle sure mænd fra Muppet Show.

Desperate Men kaster sig legende, fysisk og hovedløst over 1. Verdenskrigs kaos og det 20. århundredes kulturelle efterdønninger – helt i Marcel Duchamps ånd, og kun bevæbnet med krop, stemmer, en værktøjskasse med DADAisme og sort humor. Spilles på engelsk & dada-volapyk.

VARIGHED 45 min · PERFORMERS Richard Headon & Jon Beedell · ARTISTIC TEAM Director: Angus Barr

desperate men

An ageing comedy duo, stranded in an out of season fishing village, must decide if the devil you know is better than the devil you don't.

Washed Up is a bleakly comic study of a personal and professional relationship in crisis. An unflinching look at the combustible tension that drives Desperate Men, one of the UK's best loved street theatre companies, to keep making vital work, for and with the people, after 37 years. The creative and emotional mechanics of their fractious yet fruitful partnership are laid bare, as they reflect on personal and collective mortality, ecological precarity, and a unique legacy of desperation.

WASHED UP vises 11-13 oktober efter dagens sene forestilling og indgår i billetten til Slapstick & Slaughter.

Filmen vises på engelsk uden undertekster.
